¹ Reverse Numbering for Laser Checks: if you feed your checks to your printer face down, you should order reverse numbering printing. To determine if you need reverse numbered checks, make a test print. Mark a blank sheet of paper with an X, then put the sheet into your printer's paper supply with the X facing up. Print anything you like to this sheet. If your test print appears on the unmarked side of the sheet, you need reverse numbered checks. If your test print appears on the side of the sheet marked X, you do not need reverse numbered checks.
